Ames High

Dr. Steven N. Watkins, superintendent of schools

The Ames Board of Education, coordinator of the Ames Public schools, fixes the policies of the system, hires all school personnel, sets the budget for the school district, reviews and extends the school curriculum, and keeps check on the operation of the school system.

Special emphasis on enlarging and improving the public school system this last year has resulted in a new remodeled gymnasium as well as new shower and dressing room facilities in the Central Junior High School Building. Beardshear and Lincoln grade schools are completely remodeled and plans have been laid for the modern relighting of Roosevelt grade school this summer. The replacement of Franklin school with a newer type structure is in the planning stage at the present time. Twentieth and Burnett streets and Woodland avenue are the sites for two grade school buildings to be built in the near future.

Each member of the school board is elected for a three year term in March. By staggering the election of the five members experienced members are always on the board. A secretary is appointed each year by the board, and a treasurer is elected every two years. Meetings are held the second Monday of each month in the high school building.

The members of the school board are Ray Cunningham, J. D. Taylor, Frank Adams, N. J. Brintnall, Mrs. Tom Maney, Hiram Munn, treasurer of the board, and Frank C. Howell, secretary of the board.

As secretary, Mr. Howell records board proceedings and keeps financial reports. Special duties include the purchase of certain school supplies, being responsible for the rental of school property to outside organizations, supervising school plant maintenance and custodians as well as being in charge of construction work.

Situated at the first door on your left at the north entrance is Dr. Steven N. Watkins, superintendent. His office is the coordinating hub for the public school system and here all records and reports are filed. The other members who make this an efficient center are Mrs. Grayce Elliott, secretary, and Miss Laura Sayre, stenographer.

Fifty firesquad-size steps south, around the corner and beyond the swinging gate Mr. C. Herbert Adams, principal of Ames High, may be located. A day for him consists of planning a new curricula for the 450 students, interviewing student teachers, welcoming visitors, dictating administrative letters, giving numerous unscheduled conferences to individual students, making plans for new classes in the fall and adding the master touch to projects which continually make Ames High noted for its high standards and ideals.

The chief cooks who sift the urgent and important business from the daily matters are Miss Mary O'Neill, head secretary, and Miss Beverly Gore, assistant secretary. Following Miss O'Neill's resignation in March, Miss Gore became the "right hand" for Mr. Adams.

Junior office assistants are Connie Moore, Eleanor Rothacker, Jan Sawyer and Joan Stock.

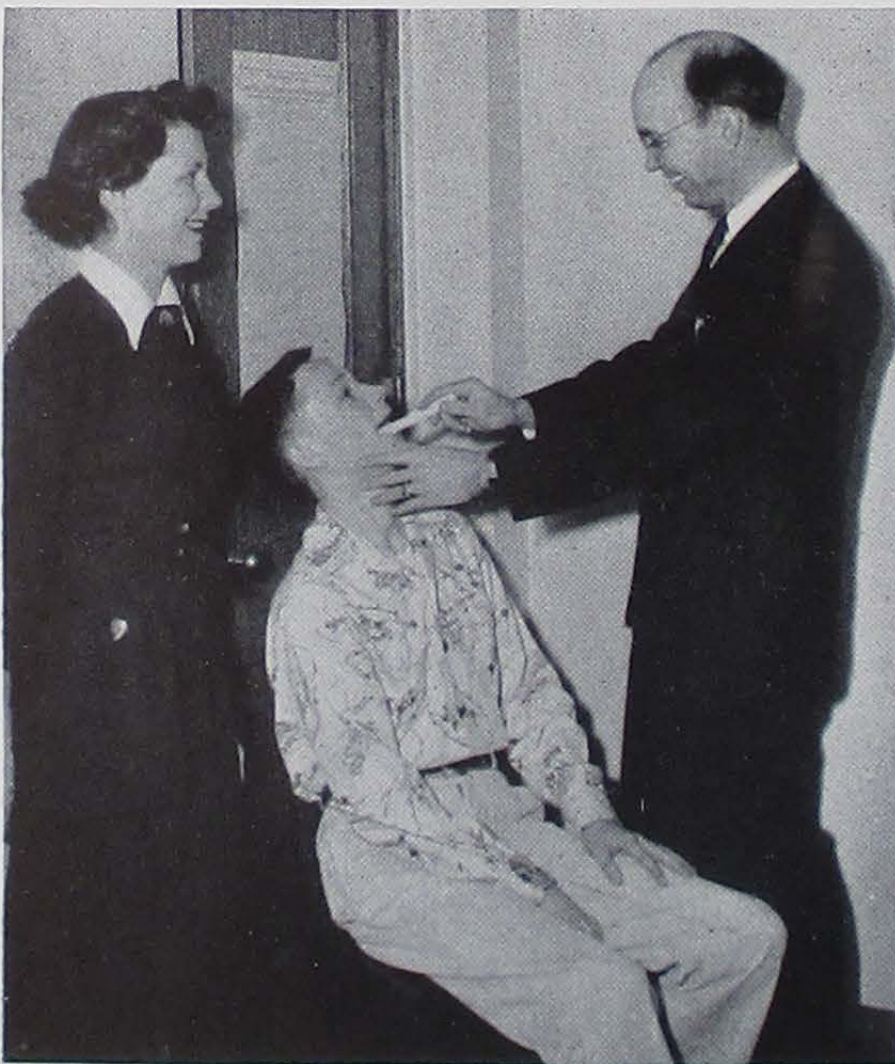

The corner of the building that sees the sunset offices Dr. Kenneth C. Piercy, physician, and Mrs. Eva Skarshaug, nurse.

Besides holding health conferences, they sponsor a program in all of the schools, give routine physicals and distribute medical advice.

Seniors

Senior Senate

TOP: Mr. Engelland, Champlin, Ed Griffith, H. Olson, Mumm, S. Myers. MIDDLE: Arney, Midgorden, E. Olsson, D. Johndreau. FRONT: Stoaks, M. Getz, M. Judge, Parsons, Mendon.

"Head size 22 inches, height 65 inches," and so with the measuring for caps and gowns Ames High graduates-to-be began to look forward to the activities of senior week.

May 19 and 20 were the dates of the first event, the presentation of the senior class play Jane Eyre by Wall Spence.

Baccalaureate followed on May 28 with the Reverend Herbert L. Bryant of Ames addressing the group.

Visions of food and fun for everyone were in the minds of seniors as they made preparations for their picnic and prom.

Senior activities came to a close with Commencement on June 2. The Reverend Gaylord Couchman of Dubuque delivered the address.

Although lots of thought was focused on colleges and vocations, seniors, nevertheless, were also thinking about their "good old Ames High days." Days filled with sports, music and dramatics, work and play, dances and parties, as well as classes will be long remembered.

Homecoming queen was Liz L. Martin. Martha Stuber and Barb Heywood were attendants.

Spirit Sweetheart for the "Spirit Special" midyear dance was Margaret Getz. Her attendants were Jane Mendon and Martha Stuber.

Jim Champlin, Bob Buck, Harold Olson and Dick Cox were placed on All-Star football teams. Jim was elected captain of Ames High's Central Iowa conference champs.

Bob Buck and Dick Cox were members of All-Conference basketball teams. Bob was also elected basketball captain.

Student body presidents were John Brayton, first semester, and Ed Griffith, second semester.

Although seniors will be separated in the next years, one tie they will always maintain—the determination to keep their traditional "aims high."

Junior Class

CLOCKWISE: Harlan, Gaskill, Fowler, M. J. Arnold, J. Judge, Dick Hall.

It was an eventful year for Ames High's 143 juniors, and they became seniors with many notable accomplishments under their belts.

The first item on their agenda was to elect officers. Richard Harlan was chosen president, Mary Jane Arnold was secretary, and Jane Gaskill, treasurer. Jack Naughton, vice-president, moved to Nevada early in the year and was replaced by John Judge. Dick Fowler and Dick Hall rounded out the junior executive council, which was under the sponsorship of Mr. Jarvis.

In September Ames High, and particularly the juniors, were pleased to learn that Don Rouze had been elected secretary of the state Student Council association.

The football season found a number of junior athletes contributing to Ames High's CIC champs. Seeing a lot of action were Art Barnes, Keith Brown, Dick Day, Dick Fowler, Jim Galligan, Dick Harlan, John Maney, and Bob Spangler.

The same caliber of play which marked junior footballers carried over into the basketball season. Winning varsity letters were Bob Spangler, Irwin Milliken, Dick Fowler and Bob Brayton.

Plans for the junior class play were receiving consideration even before thoughts were turning to Christmas vacation. Dear Ruth, a comedy about wartime romance, was chosen to be given February 16 and 18. Casting was completed before Christmas to allow plenty of time for learning parts. Included in the cast were Judy Wilson, Jean Holcomb, Margot Miller, Don Rouze, Delores Fisher, Dick Day, Gordon Shepherd, Catherine Schanche, Tom McDowell, and John Nichols. Much credit is due all the crew members who gave time and energy toward making the play a success.

Many compliments, (and silver dollars), came to Keith Brown, when he received the award for being the safest driver in Ames High. Also among the top ten were Dick Hall, Beverly Scheuermann, and John Maney.

As it always is, the Prom was the climax of the junior year. Discussions began early in the homerooms about the theme for this year's prom. Much time and hard work were given in planning and decorating the gym. Held May 31, the Prom was a fitting highlight to a successful year for Ames High's 1950 junior class.

A Cinderella Ames High football team upset the experts again to snatch the coveted Central Iowa conference trophy from the hands of other powerhouse contenders!

Mr. Wells and Mr. Covey congratulate Jim Champlin, football captain.

The ten returning letter winners are Art Barnes, Bob Spangler, Dick Harlan, Dick Fowler, Dick Day, John Maney, Keith Brown, Don Webber, Jim Galligan and Irwin Milliken.

The first to feel the AHS hustle and drive were the Mason City Mohawks. Cox scored twice and Buck once to make the Cyclone's margin of victory 19 to 7.

The Newton Cardinals, slated to lead the CIC, started the game by pushing over for seven points. But Ames proved differently in a sixty yard Buck to Cox touchdown pass, a pass interception runback by Cox and an end sweep touchdown play with Spangler scoring. Final score was Ames 20, Newton 14.

Ames defeated Marshalltown 18 to 7 with Bappe scoring on a reverse and Cox tallying on an off-tackle play and a 70 yard sprint.

The Ames defensive units were the sparks in the Oskaloosa game. The scoring was handled by Cox and Spangler with the score Ames 28, Osky 6.

The mighty Wahawk back field proved too much for the Cyclones in the lone Ames defeat of the season. A sixty yard run by Spangler was the only Ames scoring until late in the game when a Webber to Maney pass set up the final T. D. to make the score West 37, Ames 14.

The score was 13-6 in favor of Fort Dodge with three minutes to go when an "airlift" by senior passer Bob Buck evened the count. Five of seven passes were completed by John Maney, Harold Olson and Dick Fowler, bringing the playing time down to thirty seconds. With fifteen seconds left the Dodgers elected to kick. Junior guard Dick Day slammed through the Dodger line to block the kick. Jim Champlin, all-state tackle, scooped up the pigskin and sprinted just out of reach of a pursuing Dodger to pay dirt. The final score was Ames 20, Fort Dodge 13.

Another chapter in Little Cyclone-Toreador football history was written in a thriller as Ames extended their unbeaten string with Boone in a 14 to 14 tie.

Coming out on the long end of a tough seven game schedule, Coach Ray Smalling's sophomore team was considered one of the best in several years.

The sophomore crew finished with a record of five wins, one tie and one loss to teams that were mostly composed of varsity reserves. Their only defeat was handed to them by the Ames High varsity reserves. Marshalltown battled the sophs to a scoreless tie while the wins were from

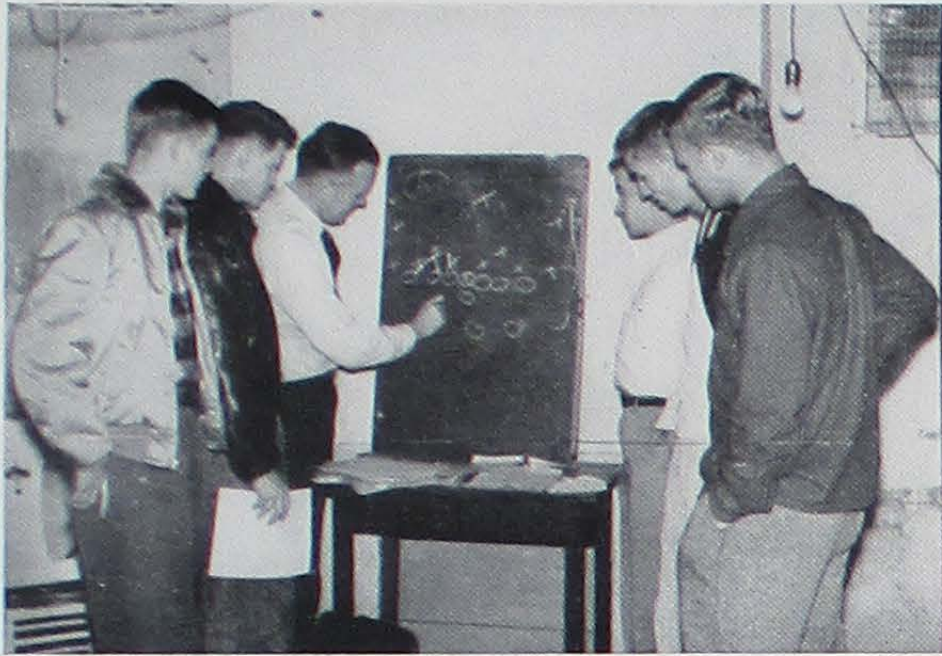

Story City, Boone, Webster City, East of Des Moines and the varsity reserves.

Bob Buck, basketball captain

The 1949-50 edition of the Little Cyclones won 8 out of 17 scheduled games and advanced into sub-state play before being downed by Abe Lincoln of Council Bluffs.

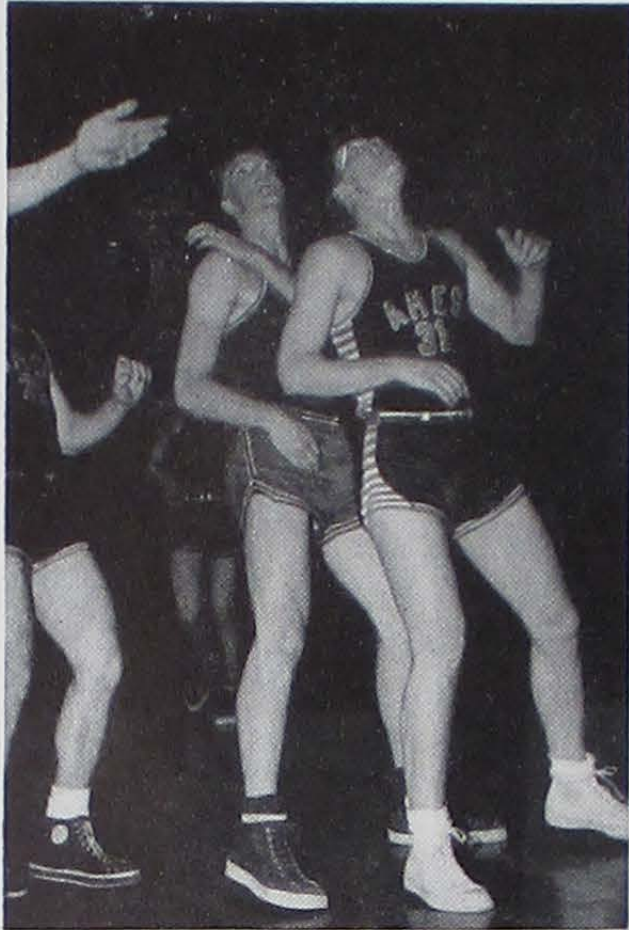

The Ames team finished in a tie for fourth place in the Central Iowa conference play with a record of three wins against seven defeats. Included in the victory column were Marshalltown, Grinnell, Oskaloosa, Fort Dodge, Perry, Nevada, Mason City and Roosevelt of Des Moines, while the remaining seven conference games plus two non-conference contests were registered as losses.

Senior Bob Buck was high point man with 162 points in 17 regular season games. Behind him were Dick Cox with 146; Don Arney 98; Irwin Milliken 82; John Brayton 79; Dick Fowler 68; Bob Spangler 52; Bob Brayton 22.

Before tournament play teammates selected Bob Buck, senior guard, as honorary captain for the regular season. Bob has been a member of the starting line-up for three years and was a leading scorer in his sophomore and senior years.

The Little Cyclones started out tournament play by downing the Boone Toreadors 45 to 36 in the District tournament. Abe Lincoln of Council Bluffs ended the Ames crew's hopes in the sub-state by downing Ames High 54 to 47.

The sophomore basketball team, coached by Hi Covey, had a successful season losing only to Marshalltown. In beating most of their opponents by decisive margins the rangy sophs showed prospects for future Ames High teams and won the Central Iowa Conference championship. Don Webber led the team in scoring with 131 points followed by Dave Varland who scored 123 points and led in conference scoring.

Mr. Norman, Pote, Don Webber, McDowell, Platt, Lee, Ohlsen, Kelley.

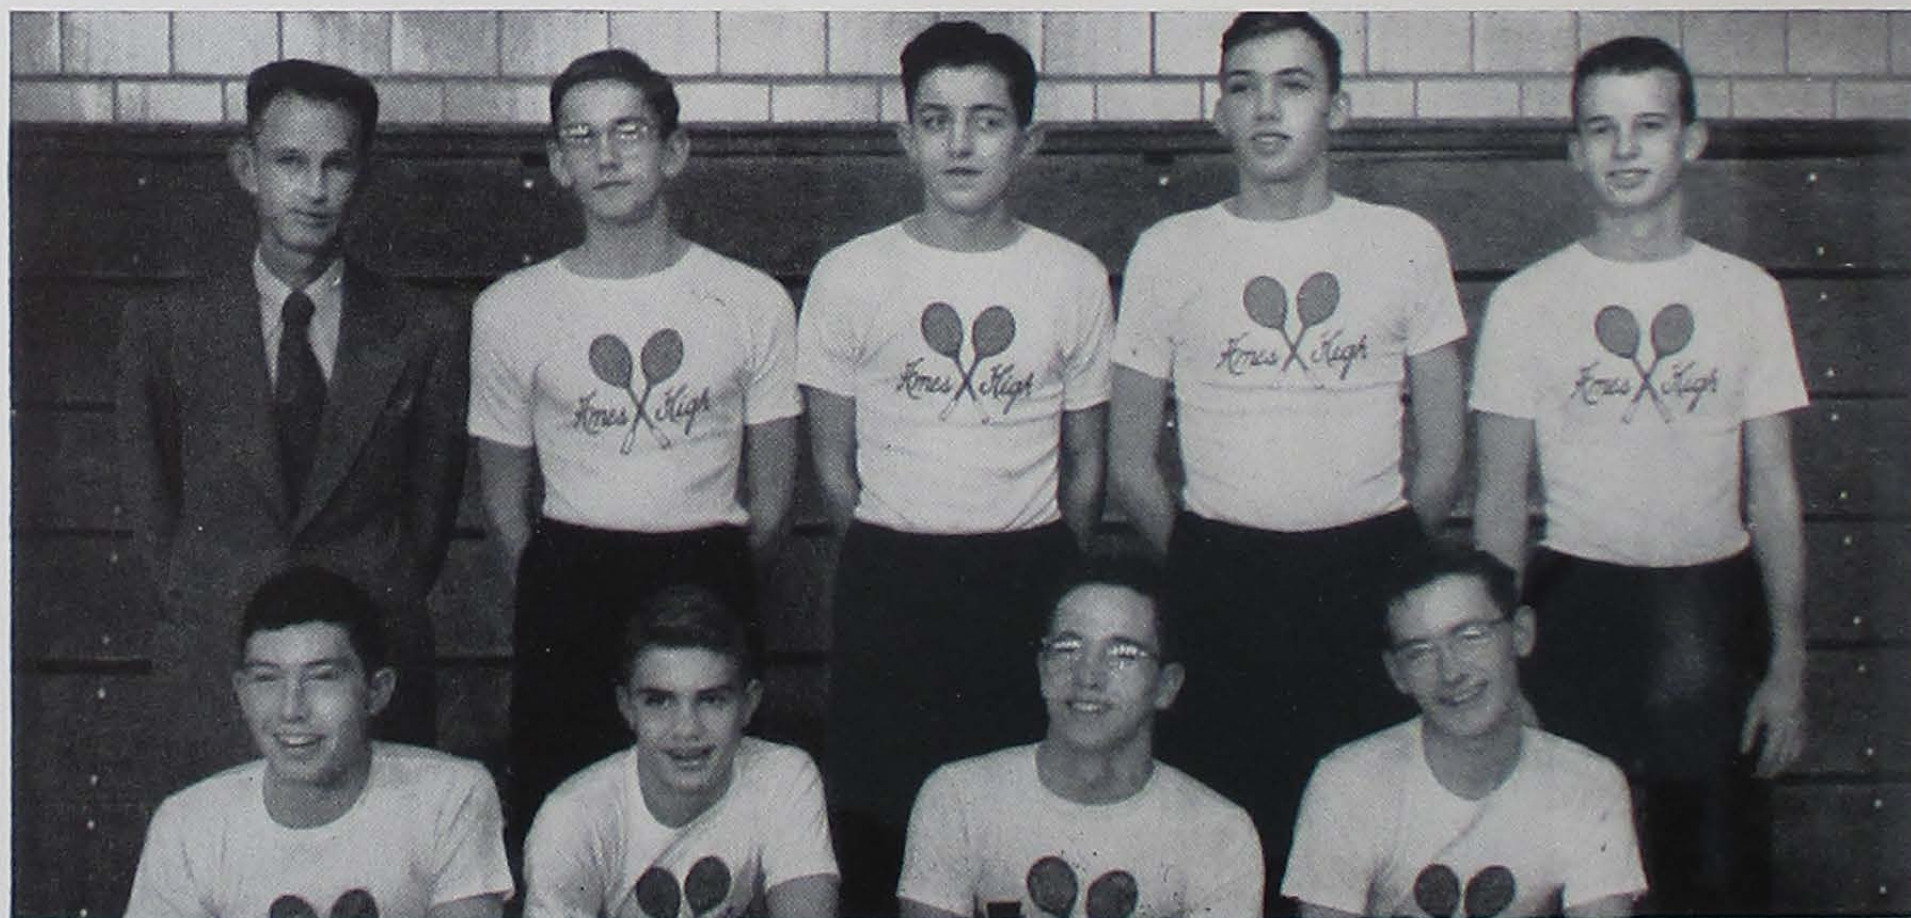

Don Platt, Bob Anderson, seniors, and Don Webber, sophomore, members of Ames High's 1949 state championship golf squad, returned to lead the 1950 team.

The Cyclone Invitational, Des Moines Invitational and Central Iowa conference meet, dual meets with Marshalltown, Boone, Newton and Webster City rounded out the golfing year.

Tom Earl, senior, and Dick Hall, junior, were the returning lettermen on coach Don Hartt's 1950 tennis squad.

Meets were held with East and Roosevelt of Des Moines and Fort Dodge and Ames was represented at a tournament at Grinnell.

In the play-off of the basketball tournament 108 beat last year's champion, 206, for the senior trophy; 238 took junior honors by defeating 235 and 234 captured the sophomore title by eliminating 126.

A faculty team consisting of Ron Norman, Will Engelland, Kenneth Page, Ray Smalling, Al Paul, Everett Ritland and Bill Slaichert defeated the senior All-Stars 21 to 19 and the junior All-Stars 36 to 28. The varsity reserves downed the seniors 22 to 19 while the sophomore reserves beat the sophomore All-Stars 29 to 11.

Point winners in golf were Bill Johnson, senior, with an 84, Dick Fiori, junior, 74, and sophomore Dick Stuber, 92. Winners in tennis competition were Norman Robinson in the senior league, Bob Bourne, junior, and Keith Paulson, sophomore.

Capturing the pass and touch football title were homerooms 211, 110 and 210. Five man teams matched their muscles in the tug-of-war with 208, 110 and 210 emerging victors. Winners in bowling were 208, 110, and 138; in wrestling were 206, 235 and 234; and in the hunting program were 206, 110 and 113.

It's a Rough Life!

Other sports offered in the program were ping pong singles and doubles, volleyball, badminton singles and doubles, horseshoes, track, softball and model airplane contest.

The aim of the Girls' Athletic Association this year was to get as many girls as possible participating and to have a well rounded, interesting program.

The season started with a softball tournament, then shifted indoors to badmitton.

The basketball season remained the most popular among the girls. Records were sent flying with senior homeroom 111 and sophomore 138 taking top honors in the A and B leagues respectively.

Bowling continued through out the year .The last of the year was left to volleyball, ping pong and general play nights.

Officers for the year were Willa Beckley, president; Dorothy Parsons, vice president; Eleanor Rothacker, treasurer; Betty Jones, intramural chairman; Jane Mendon, social chairman, and Betty Almquist and Nancy Francis, point recorders.

G. A. A. Basketball All-Stars

The P. E. classes voted for all-star teams, each girl voting upon members of her own grade. The senior all-stars are Margaret Getz, Pat Morrissey, Avonell Zenor, Dorothy Parsons, Anne Knuths, Norma Roelofsen, Marlys Comstock, Helen Stoaks.

Members of the junior all-stars are Edna Myers, Bev Scheuermann, Eleanor Rothacker, Helen Rath, Mary Jo Highbarger, Betty Litchfield, Louise Alexander.

The Sophomore all-stars are Beth Holl, Diana Alecock, Judy Meldrum, Opal Durby, Ann Maywald, Janet McCoy, Pat Hurlburt, Marcia McGuire.

G.A.A. Winners Circle

The girls of Homeroom 111, triumphant winners of the A league basketball tournament, are Jane Mendon, Marlus Comstock, June Gord, Wilma Potee, Jan Gerbrach, Norma Roelofsen, Naomi Jorgenson, LaVonne Peterson, Jo Ann Hoffman.

Smiling sophomores of Homeroom 126 were winners of the B league tournament. They are Marcia McGuire, Ann Maywald, Mary Jo Hamilton, Jan O'Brien, Liz Toresdahl, Kay Johndreau.

Softball champions were Beth Holl, Virginia Kellogg, Norma Hedrick, Louise Alexander, Marcia McGuire, Judy Meldrum, Dorothy Parsons, Pauline Utter, Margot Schmidt, Diana Alcock, Marilyn Klein.

Members of Homeroom 108, runner-up in the B league, are Avonell Zenor, Marilyn Norton, Barb Heywood, Ruth Anderson, Roberta Gillpatrick, Martha Stuber.

Pat McGuire, Charlene Fuller, Shirley Baker, Mary Halden, Norma Lillard, Pat O'Brien, Judy Meldrum, Norma Kelley, homeroom 138, were the runners-up of the A tournament.

The winners of the badminton tournament were Beth Holl and Pat Hurlburt.

Members of Varsity club were boys who won letters in basketball, football, golf, tennis or track and who managed to survive the rigors of initiation into the group.

If a member passes the requirements in the spring, he can expect to be forcibly floated down Squaw Creek at the Varsity club picnic; if he is a football letter winner, he is initiated by playing basketball, handicapped by a long coat and boxing gloves, against Pep club seniors at the half-time of the first home basketball game.

Officers of the club are Bob Buck, president; Dick Cox, vice-president; Don Platt, secretary-treasurer; and Jim Champlin, historian.

Pep Club Activities

A new sales record was set when Pep club sold football tickets in the fall. They made formations with the Marching band at all home games and at West Waterloo and Boone. The group made pom-poms for the Boone game, selling 500 of them in one day. The season ended with the traditional kissing of the Little Green Jug at the potluck before the game.

Basketball activities included ticket sales, presenting skits for pep assemblies and providing special half-time entertainment.

Officers were Barbara Heywood, president; Jane Mendon, vice-president; Anne Knuths, secretary, and Marlene Davis, treasurer.

Hi-Y and G.R. cooperated to sponsor Friendship Week February 7, 8, and 9. Reverend Oscar Bollman, assistant pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church in Des Moines spoke on the theme Let's Find Ourselves.

G.R. and Hi-Y filled and delivered boxes for the residents of the county home during the Christmas season. Together they planned and carried out a program for Christian Rural Overseas Program.

Special occasions of the G.R. included the Dad-Daughter Party, Style Show, Mother-Daughter Tea following installation, and the Big Pal-Little Pal Picnic for incoming sophomores. Three class firesides, the football fireside, and the Newcomers' party, sponsored jointly with G.R. were put on by the Hi-Y cabinet.

Sponsors for G.R. are Miss Edna Wilcox, Miss Ruth Miller and Miss Charlotte Nelson. Officers were Elizabeth L. Martin and Norma Roelofsen, president; Elaine Griffith, secretary; Barbara Sherman, treasurer; and Jan Gerbrach, assistant treasurer.

Hi-Y officers first and second semester were Don Arney and Keith Brown, president; Keith Brown and Don Webber, vice-president; Phil Pearson and Jim Galligan, secretary, Bob Anderson and Jerry Kurtz, treasurer.

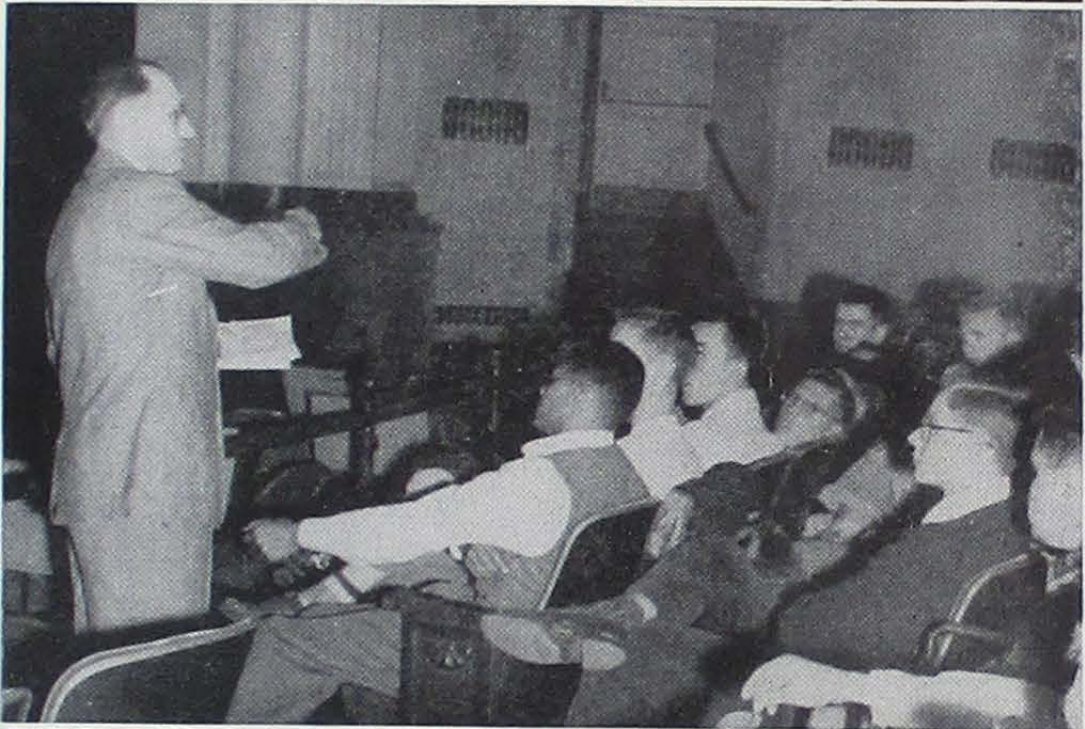

This year's group started work on the Hi-Y lounge. The room was cleaned, painted and furnished by this year's Hi-Y. The lounge was also equipped with a combination radio-phonograph.

During the year, the State Hi-Y created a new government project. Two juniors, one a representative and one a senator, were chosen by the student body and they went to Des Moines to represent Ames High.

Dues of five cents a month per boy were paid by Hi-Y members to help Jaques Aufrey, a French war orphan. During the first semester Girl Reserve supported Jeanine Doyan, their adopted war orphan. Because Jeanine no longer needed their help, near the end of the semester a French girl, Monique Martin, was adopted.

At Christmas time Girl Reserves sold over 190 dozen holly wreaths.

What causes a daring individual dashing madly to get a coveted place in that endless cafeteria line to halt breathlessly in his tracks? Nothing but the familiar orange and black badge that signifies Firesquad!

Students who disobey the rules of the halls in this way are rudely greeted in homeroom soon after by the arrival of a certain little red slip. Every three red slips accumulated are awarded by a seventh period.

Boys wishing to join Firesquad must be recommended by the faculties of both junior highs and approved by Miss Miller, sponsor. The invitations issued to them enumerate such responsibilities as maintaining orderly halls and conducting fire drills. A new fire drill record of 45 seconds was attained this year.

Only senior members of Firesquad may hold office. Dave Johndreau was elected Fire-chief first semester with Bob Anderson serving in that capacity second semester. Secretary-treasurers for first and second semesters, respectively, were Edgar Griffith and Paul Ahart.

Climaxing the year for the members and their dates is the annual Firesquad picnic which is financed by personal fines. Amusing feature of the picnic is the traditional dunking of the Fire-chief.

Elaine Griffith solos in Christmas candle-light service

The vocal groups of Ames High, a cappella choir, Girls Glee club and Mixed Chorus, were busy throughout the year preparing programs for school and community groups under the direction of Miss Edna Bower.

A cappella choir sang over radio station WOI, participating in the Christmas vocal program and gave a concert at the Veterans hospital. Officers were John Midgorden, president; Roberta Gillpatrick, vice-president; Alice Irvine, secretary; Reinhard Friedrich, librarian, and Mary Jane Arnold and Keith Brown, robe keepers.

Girls Glee club this year has taken pride in its new crimson robes. The Glee club was represented by Elizabeth A. Martin, president; Marilyn Klein, vice-president; Pauline Martin, secretary, Eleanor Rothacker, librarian, and Elaine Griffith, Ruth Monroe and Janet McElyea, robe keepers.

The Chorus sang in the Christmas program. Its officers were Patsy Yates, president; John Maney, vice-president; Louise Pierre, secretary, and Beverly Scheuermann, librarian.

The first concert which the Ames High orchestra presented was the Junior Town program. They presented both novelty and serious pieces. Their regular concert was given in the spring. For this concert a Drake operetta group gave excerpts from operas. The officers of the orchestra included Larry Bork, president; Ruth Dahl, vice-president; Patsy Steele, secretary-treasurer, and Elizabeth A. Martin, librarian.

The tri-city festival was one event which stood out in the band's season. It was held all day at Ft. Dodge. They played over KWDM on the Bands of Central America. Their regular concert was given in the spring. Officers of the band were George Robinson, president; Rein-hard Friedrich, vice-president; Mary Hayenga, secretary-treasurer; Betty Lou Jones, librarian.

Among the small groups formed this year was the string ensemble. They played for social groups. The members were Patsy Yates, Virginia Kellogg, Norma Hedrick and Kay Johnson.

Assignments being made on Tuesday of each week, the journalism students are given three days to track down their stories outside of class. Fridays and Mondays are dedicated to the actual writing and typing of Web copy.

Meanwhile they are instructed in the fundamentals of journalistic writing by Miss Charlotte Nelson, sponsor, learning such things as the difference between a straight news story and a feature story, the art of composing headlines, and interviewing personalities.

Each class was divided into two complete staffs which serve alternately, one each week. The editorial positions on each staff include copy, makeup, assignment, sports, headline, and exchange editors.

First and second semester Web staffs learning the principles of journalism.

Munson, Jackman, Malander, Stahlman, Rothacker.

Cubs' club, Ames High School's journalism organization, is available to all those students who are interested in the field of newspaper writing and who are not enrolled in the regular journalism class offered in the senior year.

Meetings serve to introduce Cubs' club members to the fundamentals of newspaper writing and to accustom them to journalistic style. Learning to apply the basic principles of journalism comes next. After several assignments the club is ready to attempt its main project, writing and editing the first Web of the second semester. Each person is responsible for writing some part of this weekly newssheet. Students who have completed their assignments on this issue satisfactorily are given the opportunity to write copy for the regular Web and the yearbook.

Under the sponsorship of Miss Charlotte Nelson, journalism instructor, the members of the organization receive a chance to learn briefly about newspaper writing and editing and to see if they will be interested enough in the work to enroll in journalism class when a senior.

For the first time since 1941, Ames was represented in a debate tournament. The newly formed debate team consisting of Sue Brown, Norton Mezvinsky, John Roberson and Art Schanche with Kenny Rowe alternate, journeyed to Cedar Falls early in the season to compete in the annual Brindley Discussion and Debate tournament, where they tied for second. The debaters also participated in several other tournaments.

Debate and dramatic activities of Ames High were headed by a new coach, Aldrich K. Paul.

The Drama club produced the well known stage and screen hit, I Remember Mama, by John Van Druten in the fall.

The juniors were enveloped in lilacs as a result of their class play choice, Dear Ruth, a comedy by Norman Krasna, which set a new financial record at Ames High.

The senior class presented a play well received by a large audience in May.

Miss McNally, general treasurer, and Mr. Hartt, athletic treasurer, with their assistants, Beverly Ott and Dave Johndreau

Ames High school employs an efficient, business-like financial system which requires the work of several competent student treasurers. Each extra-curricular or class organization has a treasurer who keeps complete records of expenditures and receipts for his respective organization. The athletic accounts, which are the most detailed of all the funds, are taken care of by Mr. D. G. Hartt and his assistant, Dave Johndreau.

When it is necessary for a check to be written, the treasurer takes a requisition to Miss Mary McNally, general treasurer, who writes the check. If the treasurer has received some money for his organization, he takes it to Miss McNally, who gives him a receipt and deposits the money in the general Ames High school account. The student treasurers' books must correspond to the duplicate set of books kept by the general treasurer and her assistant, Beverly Ott. At the end of each year the student treasurers turn in a financial report and budget for the coming year.

Radio Club, Photography Club

TOP: Roberson, Mr. Easter, N. Robinson, E. Johns. MIDDLE: J. Kelley, B. Brayton, Harlan, R. Johns. FRONT: Walkup, G. Robinson, Dunlap, Wright, Ohlsen.

Two recently organized clubs in Ames High on the scientific side are the Radio club and the Photography club. Sponsor of Radio club is Mr. Ronald Easter. The members built electronic equipment and discussed modern radio developments. Their main project this school year has been the development of an amateur radio station, WTRI. They erected a radio antenna on the high school roof, bought a national radio receiver and built a 10 meter transmitter.

Photography club was composed of five members and sponsored by Mr. Richard Trump. Club activities consisted of demonstrations and discussions in the art of photography plus practice on developing, printing, enlarging and other processes. The main project of the club has been the equipping of a janitor's closet which is now the club's darkroom. Phil Arthur is the club chairman.

Organizing, supervising and promoting interest in school affairs were the duties of Student Council, the student governing body of Ames High. Presiding over the council first and second semesters were John Brayton and Edgar Griffith, respectively. Other officers include Dick Mumm and Jim Dyas, vice-presidents; Don Rouze and Bruce Adams, secretaries; and Bill Jackson and Francis Judge, treasurers; Everett Ritland is the faculty advisor.

In the fall Don Rouze was elected secretary of the Iowa Association of Student Councils.

Spirit Staff

Chief plotters and schemers were editor Joyce Gray, and assistant editors Norma Hedrick, left, and Barb Heywood.

The leader of the tribe is chief Trump. He is supposedly adjusting his shootin' iron, but don't let that fool you.

Credit for a job well done goes to the advertising staff. They are J. Nichols, J. Allen, E. Rothacker, M. Schmidt, L. Peterson and J. Weber. Front row: N. Røelofsen, J. Hoffman, L. Seaman and E. Griffith.

The artists in our book factory are Anne Knuths and Marian Martin, her assistant. Special projects included drawing layouts for the division pages and new picture arrangements.

No one ever explained what material feature editors Norton Mezvinsky and Liz L. Martin could get from reading a treasurer's report, but maybe their interest is on the humor magazine set inside.

The dizzy finger crew headed by Manager Barb Sherman are typists Jan Gerbrach, Ellen Culbertson, Patsy Steele, Audrey Townsend, Darlene Roberson, Helen Turpin and Bev Ott.

More by accident than by prearrangement, the yearbook staff managed to be in the room at the same time. Results? Your staff: M. Stuber, B. Heywood, P. Arthur, T. Earl, J. Champlin, N. Hedrick. Seated: J. Gray, J. Mendon, A. Knuths.

The Library Club added a new activity this year to the usual activities of governing the library, repairing damaged books, and arranging the hall display case. Book reviews were given after school by high school teachers. Mr. Kenneth Wells reviewed Modern Arms and Free Men by Bush. The other two reviews were given by Miss Mary McNally and Mr. Aldrich Paul, who reviewed The River Line by Morgan and 1984 by Orwell. Jan Gerbrach was president this year with Margaret Getz and Avonell Zenor as vice-president and secretary, respectively.

Sponsored by Mr. Kenneth Page, the Film Operators club is organized as a service to the teachers of Ames High. The duties of the club are to run the movie machines and other equipment. By working twenty clock hours a member can receive one-fourth credit toward high school graduation. Officers for the year were John Weber, president; Art Bappe, vice-president; Barbara Sherman, secretary-treasurer.

A few weeks before the Thanksgiving vacation, children's story and picture books were collected by Red Cross council members in each homeroom and taken to the Lutheran Children's Home in Ames. Before the Christmas vacation gift boxes were sent to children in war torn countries. The Red Cross sponsored two programs at the Veteran's Hospital in Des Moines. A talent show, presented as an assembly for Ames High earlier in the year, was reproduced for the veterans on February 11, and a religious music program was given April 7. Members of this organization were appointed by the presidents of each homeroom. Kay Johnston was president; Marcia McGuire, secretary, Mrs. Elizabeth Dickinson, sponsor.

Cafeteria Staff and Driver Training

Driver's Training is the class which instructor Floyd M. Grainge claims the students "run to get to and walk to leave."

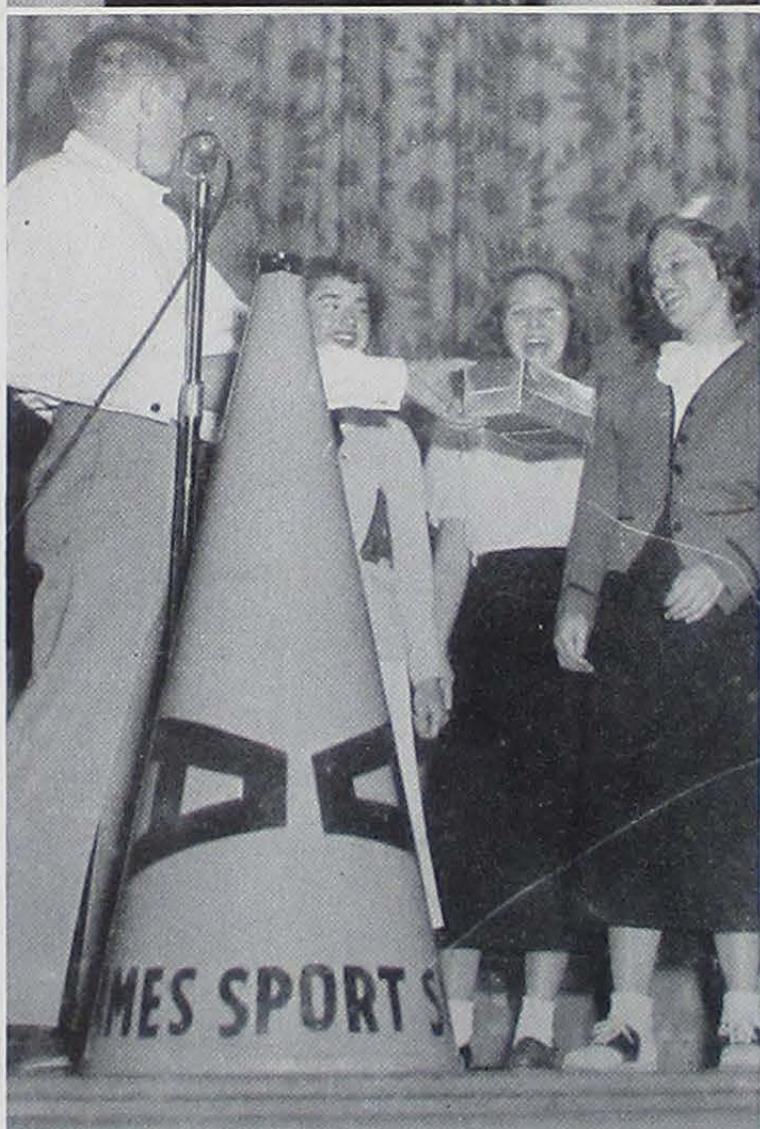

Proof of this are the 80 students who participated in the years' program which consisted of a weekly class at school, held out of class time, where driving laws and parts of an automobile were studied and in actual driving periods where novices took to the by ways and lanes with special permits tucked in their pockets.

Activities

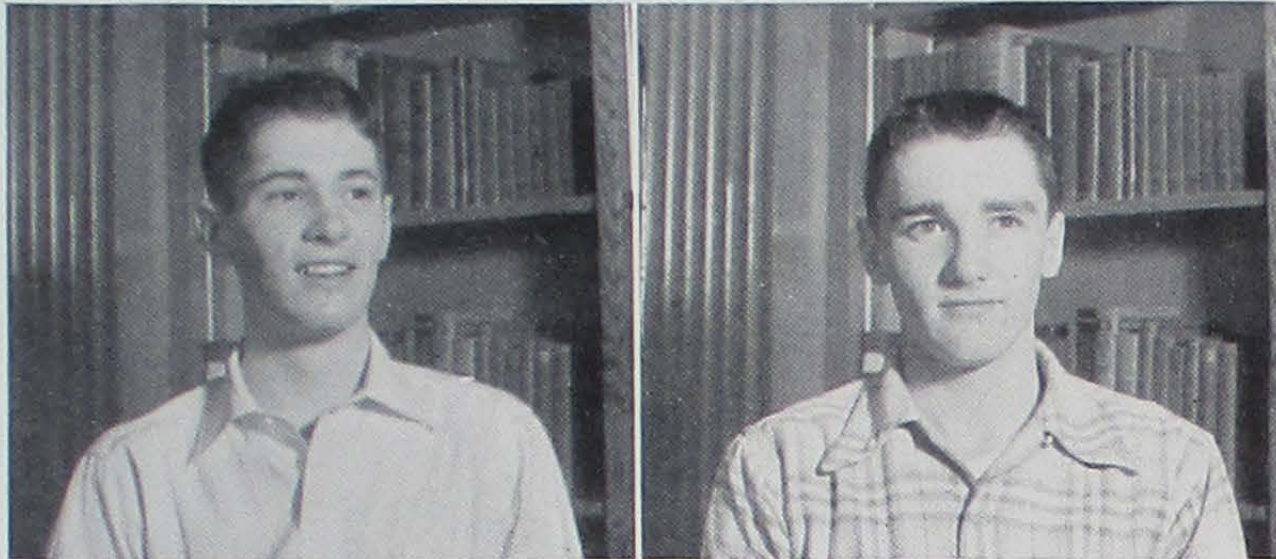

Homecoming

Homecoming, sponsored by Student council, was celebrated for the first time in many years. Elizabeth L. Martin and her attendants Barb

These were all posed. Really, they were. Honest!

*Our guess is Homecoming.
Kay sneaks a peak.
You tell them, Norma.
The food wasn't that bad.*

*Who was the girl that just passed by?
Join the band—get a free meal.
Move along there, you initiates.
More band, more free food.*
